RAILROADS.

NEW YORK, July 9.-2-p. m.-The TODAY'S SALES ON market at this time is a little bit better than the low figures for the day The shorts have shown no indication to cover as yet and the market is just about as dull as during the first two Co., bankers and brokers, Hibbs Building members New York Stock Exchange, Washington Stock Exchange, and Chirago Board hours of the morning.

NEW YORK, July 9.-If today's ses sion continues throughout as it started, it will take precedence as the slowest most unattractive, dullest market of the year 1909 (to date), and we have had some dull days. Time and again the ticker seemed to stop as if for a rest. Small lots of stock were the rule, not the exception, and price fluctuations were within the narrowest of ranges. Speculators are evidently afraid to sell the market and they need a stimulant to induce them to purchase, and the stimulant is not forthcoming. The Government crop report was excellent, giving promise of big crops and great prosperity among the agriculturisis, but grain speculators took a less favorable view, asserting that the weather since the 1st of July, when the Government report was prepared, has not been good for crops. Wall Street sold stocks on the report, just because it has formed the habit of doing it on favorable news.

As usual, the market showed a bit better strength in the opening, and lost it before the end of the first hour. Passing into the noon hour the list held as placid and unruffled as could be imagined, a quotation coming over now and then, simply a repetition of the last and then, simply a repetition of the last previous sale, never changing more than one-eighth of a point, or a quarter, at the most. This with reference to all the active leaders like Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, Reading, etc. There was one exception. Illinois Central was very strong and rose nearly a point, accompanied by bullish predictions on this stock, probably based on a big corneron.

mittee. He had introduced the resolution covering this just before the recess was taken.

As reported from the committee, the rule provided that the House should non-concur in gross in the Senate amendments, and agree to the conference asked for by the Senate, and that a committee of conference should be appointed.

Representative Dalzell asked that an hour and one-half debate be allowed on the rule, and gave notice that he would then move the previous question.

Representative Townsend of Michigan wanted the debate to continue until 4 o'clock. To this Mr. Dalzell objected. Representative Kiefer of Ohio asked whether the adoption of the rule would preclude remarks on the tariff later after the rule was adopted. He was assured that it would not.

As requested by Mr. Dalzell, the House agreed to limit debate to one hour and a half as to whether the rule should be adopted. Mr. Dalzell spoke for a few moments only to explain the parliamentary situation. He said the bill came from the Senate with $47 amendments, and it was proposed to take it up and non-concur in all thrase amendments and then send the bill to conference.

Two advances in prices were recorded n the fruit market, when blackberries umped from 8 to 10 cents a quart, and nly a few houses were supplied with them. Quality, however, was above the average.

They considered the question of what action to take and it was agreed that if the motion for the previous question on the adoption of the rule could be beaten, Mr. Norris chould make a motion to agree to the reductions made in the bill by the Senate before sending the bill to conference.

This morning the insurgents admitted that they had little hope of beating the previous question, but they and nounced they would try it and thought it possible they might succeed. Their fear, frankly expressed, was that if it was seen the motion for the previous question on the rule was to be beaten, enough Democrats would join the Cannon forces to adopt the previous question and the situation would then be tied up in a knot.

The House met again at 1 o'clock and Representative Dalzell of Pennsylvania reported the rule from the Rules Committee. He had introduced the resolution covering this just before the recess was taken.

For once Washington Gas did not attract all of the attention on the local Stock Exchange.
